Hello,

I hope everyone has had a good week.

I wanted to give an update on our road conditions. The storms have passed for now, and the roads are open and clear. Chains are not needed but with snow melting along the side of the road through the day there is water on the road that freezes once temperatures drop.. It is important to be careful after dark as the roads get slick from the ice and you may not see it in advance.

Please watch the forecast regarding upcoming storms and always be prepared for snowy conditions.

Have a great weekend!

Wanda
